

CENTRAL AVENUE, BELLE ISLE. DETROIT, MICH.

Belle Isle Park contains about 700 acres and has cost Detroit including bridge leading to it about $2,000,000. It has beautiful lawns and Floral displays, also many miles of driveways and canada it has a Zim Harticultarial limiting and Aquarigus. He freshments are served at both Casino and Pavillion. It was bought from the Chippewa and Ottawa Indians for eight Harrels of run, three tons at tollacco, six pounds of vermitains and a belt of wampun, by Lieutenant and Dougatt in 1769. In 1879, 110 years after ward it was sold to Detroit for $200,000.

